MACATEE TO CO-HOST 2008 LIFE EVENT

PARAMUS, N.J., (May 6, 2008) — CBS Sports play-by-play announcer, Bill Macatee, who plays a major role in the network's professional golf coverage, will co-host the 2008 LIFE (LPGA Pros In the Fight to Eradicate Breast Cancer) Event on May 19.

Macatee will join LIFE founder and LPGA veteran, Val Skinner, as co-host for the ninth annual charity golf pro-am which draws the best women golfers in the world from the Ladies Professional Golf Association (LPGA) and benefits the Cancer Institute of New Jersey and Susan G. Komen for the Cure, the LPGA's official national charity. Following play, Macatee will co-host the awards reception inside the historic Ridgewood Country Club.

Featuring the biggest stars of the LPGA, the LIFE Event will make Macatee feel right at home. The veteran sportscaster anchors CBS's coverage of the professional women's tour, in addition to serving as a tower announcer for The Masters and PGA Championship. Since 1990, Macatee has also anchored coverage of the PGA Tour on USA Network.

Aside from golf, Macatee is featured on network telecasts for the NFL, the U.S. Open Tennis Championships and a variety of CBS Sports events, including skiing, track and field, and the NCAA Tournament. He has covered a variety of major events, including the World Series, the Super Bowl, Wimbledon and various college bowl games.

He lives in Newport Beach, Calif., with his daughter, Caitlin.
